Group Activity

This program is designed with specific activities and curriculum scheduled throughout the week, designed specifically to meet curriculum standards for educators and students, coordinated by ADVENTURE 360. Individuals may decide to not participate in any activity to pursue other activities of interest. However, in such cases, the individual is responsible for coordinating all transportation, rooming and meals when not participating in the group activities. Fees and other costs for activities not included in the daily scheduled activities are the responsibility of the individual. The individual also agrees to hold harmless and waive any liability when participating in activities not scheduled and coordinated by ADVENTURE 360 as part of this program.

Fossil Collecting

Paleo X is a unique paleontological experience designed to provide participants with a broad view of the fields of paleontology, geology and the world of the dinosaurs. Our experiences are located on federal- and state-owned land where specific permits are required. Fossils collected are the property of all U.S. citizens and therefore, cannot be owned by private individuals. Collection of fossils without federal or state permits could result in federal and state investigation including legal prosecution.

During Paleo X programs, all collected materials are provided to a federal repository who then may loan material to ADVENTURE 360 for educational purposes. Any participants keeping any fossils during the Paleo X Field School program will be dismissed from the program with no refund of fees and their actions will be reported to the appropriate state or federal authorities.

Collection of Artifacts

Paleo X is a unique paleontological experience designed to provide participants with a broad view of the fields of paleontology, geology and the world of the dinosaurs. Our experiences are located on federal- and state-owned land where specific permits are required. Collection of archaeological artifacts without the required permits could result in federal and state investigation including legal prosecution. Therefore, it is the policy of ADVENTURE 360 that there will be no collection of Native American or historical artifacts during its Paleo X programs. Found artifacts may be photographed and location documented for archaeological research purposes. However, artifacts must be returned to the location where the artifact was found. These artifacts include but are not limited to Native American arrowheads, spearpoints, camp sites and historical camp sites. Any participants collecting artifacts during the Paleo X Field School program will be dismissed from the program with no refund of fees and their actions will be reported to the appropriate state or federal authorities.

Adventures in Learning

Firearms

ADVENTURE 360 provides a safe environment for its participants. Firearms of any kind, including those legally permitted, are strictly prohibited on all ADVENTURE 360 programs. Any person participating in any ADVENTURE 360 program possessing, obtaining or assisting in the acquisition of any firearms, for any reason, will be dismissed from the program immediately. Upon removal from the program, no fees will be refunded. All rooming fees, meals, transportation, airfare or other costs will be the sole responsibility of the removed participant.
